My name is Yuliya Shinkerich. I'm a student of 9th grade in school №. I'm writing to you to inform you about a problem that has recently come to my attention.

Our school has a museum with a large amount of information and objects - books, photos, historical artefacts and overall many things that can be useful to school students but the museum isn't attended by them at all.

The main reason for that is that many students don't even know about the museum or fail to realise how many interesting things there are. Another problem is that even those who know about the museum find it easier to search the information they need on the internet rather than to attend the museum. Therefore, it's our duty to make them realise how much more interesting it is to see everything with your eyes than to find it on the Internet.

The solution to this problems is to spread information about the museum - make posters, make an announcement about it, ask some students to volunteer and go to other classes and tell everyone about the museum. It would also be useful for students to attend excursions to the museum.

In conclusion I can say that I hope I managed to bring your attention to this problem and you will perform some actions.
